Google Play Store App Publishing & Testing

Struggling with the 20-tester rule, organization verification, or account suspensions? Let ChittorTech publish and manage your Android applications securely.

Publishing on Google Play is harder than ever

Google Play Store has implemented strict verification policies to combat spam and malware. Newly registered individual developer accounts are now locked behind a mandatory 20-tester testing program for 14 continuous days. Business verification has also grown complex, requiring D-U-N-S numbers, official business documents, and verified local representatives.

How We Eliminate Friction

20-Tester Rule Fulfilled
No need to find 20 testers. We fulfill Google's mandatory 14-day closed testing opt-in requirement.

Compliance Check
Complete analysis of your APK/AAB package, target SDK version, and privacy policy compliance.

Zero Setup Hassle
Save registration costs, legal verification, and identity audits using our verified accounts.

Active Maintenance
Constant store listing optimization, crash analysis, and seamless update submissions.

How the Process Works

Get your app online in 4 simple steps.

1

App Submission

Upload your app bundle (.aab or .apk) along with screenshots, app icon, descriptions, and privacy policy details.

2

Policy & Security Review

Our testing team audits the application for compliance violations and crashes to guarantee a 100% review pass rate.

3

Testing & Validation

If running on your console, we spin up our 20-tester network to complete the mandatory 14-day continuous opt-in testing.

4

App Launch & Live Status

We submit the app to Google Play Store and monitor it until it is officially approved and live for public download.

Frequently Asked Questions

Google Play Console par app publish karne me kitna time lagta hai?

Generally 3 to 7 days for review. If testing is required, it adds 14 days.

What is Google's new 20-tester rule?

New personal accounts must have 20 people test their app for 14 continuous days before publishing.

Kya mera app suspend hone ka khatra hai?

If you follow Google's policies and use original code/assets, your app is completely safe.

Agar app update karna ho toh kya charge hoga?

We offer free updates within a specific period depending on your chosen plan. Minimal charges apply later.
